Express Ride, Royal Prestige Favored In Breeders Crown Freshman Trot

Inside — An Indepth Look At The Breeders Crown !!

By Allan Kirschenbaum
Breeders Crown Publicist

A stellar field of ten colt trotters will face the starting gate a bit past 11:00 this evening, in the final test for divisional supremacy, the Breeders Crown Two-Year Old Colt Trot. Either Express Ride or Royal Prestige should win the race which holds a purse of $474,804. But there are eight additional rivals who will be gunning for the top slot and the battle will undoubtedly be a memorable one.

Express Ride has demonstrated immense talent since the inception of his racing career and will be driven by Hall-of-Famer George Sholty. Cruising to a near five length crushing of his foes in the Peter Haughton Memorial at the Meadowlands, he seemed to be far advanced of his peers and the notion that any of them could defeat him fair and square appeared ridiculous. However, in recent weeks, the bay son of Super Bowl, while maintaining the brilliant form, has also displayed his mortality and the divisional honors that he had apparently locked up are now in jeopardy.

The colt who has posed such a threat to the dominance of Express Ride is the aptly-named Royal Prestige. At $225,000, the most expensive purchase in the field, the striking youngster has lived up to his impeccable pedigree. A son of the outstanding Speedy Crown, Royal Prestige has displayed the talent that both his sire and his dam, the immortal Nevele Pride mare Rosemary, exhibited throughout their respective careers. Royal Prestige has defeated Express Ride twice in the last six weeks. Surely a victory in the Breeders Crown will vault Royal Prestige squarely past Express Ride to the forefront of his class.

There are other aspirants to the crown, colts that will raise few eyebrows if they should pull an upset. Salem Lobell has won seven of ten and has proven his knack for finding the winners circle. Along with his stablemates Royal Prestige, Farm King and Seurat Lobell, gives the Continental Farm Stable an excellent chance of winning.

Others in the field include Mangrove, Stanley Dancer's charge; On The Take, a multiple New Jersey Sire Stakes winner with Bill O'Donnell in the bike; Predominant, from the productive Doug Ackerman Stable; Tory Sweep, a multiple open stakes winner who will be handled by top Ontario horseman Bill Wellwood; and the vastly improved Long Legend who has matured in recent weeks into a very logical upset choice.
